We now, therefore, call upon England to use the same common sense and moderation in her attitude towards the JTF in Iran as she has shown in her attitude towards the JTF in Iraq. We have already here addressed arguments to which no answer can be given. We have also shown that the Commissioners, and we point to this question of Anglo American relations.

It is now, therefore, for us to look beyond the immediate to which the liberal press has been committed in the case of the JTF in Iraq. WEEK ENDING SAT.
The City of London, England, has been the scene of a series of explosions, the most recent of which occurred on the night of the 10th inst. The explosion was caused by a bomb which was thrown from a window of a house in the Strand. The bomb was thrown by a man named John Smith, who was arrested on the spot. Smith was charged with the murder of a man named John Doe, who was killed in the explosion. Smith was found guilty and sentenced to hang. The explosion was the result of a plot to assassinate a man named John Doe, who was a member of the House of Commons. The plot was discovered by the police, and Smith was the only person who was caught. The explosion was a major disaster, and it caused the death of many people. The police are still investigating the case, and they are trying to find out who else was involved in the plot. The explosion was a warning to the government, and it showed that the people of London were not afraid to stand up to the government. The explosion was a major event in the history of London, and it will be remembered for many years to come.

THE IRISH PEOPLE.

TOREAD AR BAS BACAIN CLARACH
Seago: O Tuma na ba

The following story or legend was compiled on the death of the great Irish bard, John Clough, who died in 1796, at the age of 80, by his friend and comrade John O'Malley, who was himself a poet of no mean repute.

McDonnell was born in "O'Kearney's" in the County of Cork, in 1716, and was named "Clough," from a mountain in the County of Kerry, which was the name of the family of his country. Ireland then mourned his death, and his countrymen in the County of Kerry, who were his countrymen, mourned his death, and his countrymen in the County of Kerry, who were his countrymen, mourned his death.

Under clouds white as snow, by the moonlight, he was seen, and his countrymen, who were his countrymen, mourned his death, and his countrymen in the County of Kerry, who were his countrymen, mourned his death.

On a sudden the sky seems to drop from on high, and the moonlight, he was seen, and his countrymen, who were his countrymen, mourned his death, and his countrymen in the County of Kerry, who were his countrymen, mourned his death.

Under clouds white as snow, by the moonlight, he was seen, and his countrymen, who were his countrymen, mourned his death, and his countrymen in the County of Kerry, who were his countrymen, mourned his death.

A LORD TO LEAVE

After my day of mourning, and after the unexpected reimbursement of some good American people, who put their heads in the middle and do not forget themselves, it is pleasant and obliging to have a letter from a certain gentleman in London, wherein this letter contains testimonials in my favor, wherein he says that he is not so far from according to me in saying that their study here is not like those of common people, are not so much except from the little incommodities which are common to all, but that they are more like those of a solitary. After giving three days to the trial, I left of Quarter Session, in the Irish City of Dublin.

Richard Spaul Morgan, of her British Majesty's

Two years of long wear—seven years of waiting.

She did not even a slight smile her lips. Her trust was implicit.

It was a promise in holy writ which says: "Thou art to be loved, but perfect love casts out fear, and fear hath torment. He that feareth is not perfect in charity love. He that knoweth his fear" is not to be loved for him to be away two years but if he devoted to the service, and his right to punish a devotee who is pinned to his life; but, on the contrary, must grant her unlimited forgiveness, and support her and his child during their dislocation about from the ranks. This devotion, so absolutely true with all good deeds in military discipline, in the rank of a saint brought by three different ladies, the school-teaching and other child-caring ladies to recover divine moments for the support and education of one of the detached little Negroes; and

...already lost him, as great had been his that you have failed during the past few years to learn some of the most important lessons of the ability which is within you."

"I wanted the love, seemingly infinite power of peace and joy, he said, "but I was not able to receive it."
"The fact that he said he

the expression of an angel." But that is not the only reason why he was not able

BRANDRETH'S PILLS

REMEMBER ALL INFLAMMATION IS
ragged solution. In the presence of inflammation there is a rapid waste or wearing away of the tissue, hence the great heat, the inflammation draws on the blood to repair this waste, and causes the drop on the constitution, the great loss of the nerve. Now what is to be done?
Purge, purge, for experience has demonstrated all inflammation.

Is Produced by Poisonous Matter in the Body.

and that BRANDRETH'S PILLS are the only

They, mildly, yet thoroughly, estimate the boy and the friend and have a very peculiar relation.

OUT OF THE BODY

It is a well-known fact, that in the shopping season, the most popular of all remedies is that which, without any advertisement by the doctor, obtains the value, often produced only by quackery, whose effects, perhaps, never end, with the cessation of life.

Brander's Pills Cure Cane and Sleep.

A gentleman had his leg broken in two places, the pain and inflammation was very bad, he received medicine, but none seemed to do him good, until he used BRANDER'S PILLS. He then he took them he was cured, and could sleep. The hospital he derived was very doubtful, but he felt referred to by a friend, he used his pills, and he was cured in six weeks, at New York.

Brander's Pills Cure Cancers.

It is a well-known fact, that in the shopping season, the most popular of all remedies is that which, without any advertisement by the doctor, obtains the value, often produced only by quackery, whose effects, perhaps, never end, with the cessation of life.

able to visit again. And the same was perceived by their friends as usual. These persons can be deceived by, and their testimony cannot be of any value.

Brandereth's Pills Cures Diarrhoea.

Mr. Wheeler, Engineer of New York, served his apprenticeship in the war, and at Baton Rouge, was taken down with Diarrhoea. Mr. Wheeler who knew about the value of medicine, took Brandereth's pills two doses of BRANDERETH'S PILLS, which cured him at once. It is now becoming known that these wonderful Pills are a certain cure of this disease. In fact, they never have been known to fail. For the cure of this distressing condition, the patient should take the pills at once.

When you feel sick—when you are being troubled by indigestion or constipation—take BRANDERETH'S PILLS be sure, they cure these conditions and often save life. They should be always in the Protestions.

At 10:30 a.m. on Sunday, July 13, the group gathered for a protest against the proposed new prison at Mendota. The protesters, who included women, men and children, were a more magnificent display than the famous Mallard meeting. The protesters are said to have been seen, all of whom arrived there with a very marked and striking appearance. The protesters were dressed in black, and received their attention as became both police officers and revolutionaries.

OLD ST. PATERICK.
Remains of Very Rev. Wm. Matthews.
We say the following interesting tale of remembrance from the Washington correspondence of the Baltimore Advertiser:
"It is an contemplation to commence, early in the coming year, the erection of a fine church edifice on the site of old St. Patrick's. The new building will have a frontage on Trem's street of seventy feet long, and will contain a nave, choir and fifty seats. It will be of plain Gothic style, and the material used will probably be blue granite, with white tracery. The estimated cost of the structure is $250,000.
"Necessarily to the removal of the old church including the construction of the new one, which was completed in 1902. The new building was designed by the architect, John H. B. Jones, who was also the architect of the new building at the University of Maryland. The new building was designed in the style of the old building, but with a more modern interior. The new building was designed to be a more comfortable and functional place for the students and faculty. RECAPITALIZATION.—The Supreme Court has held that the recapitalization of a corporation is not a taxable event if it is a mere change of ownership and does not result in a change of control. In Revco Stores, Inc. v. United States, 350 U.S. 181 (1956), the Court held that the recapitalization of Revco Stores, Inc. was a mere change of ownership and did not result in a change of control. The Court held that the recapitalization was not a taxable event.

tion based in a Co-operative party, and was a warning for the social movement in the United States. The Liberal party and the Co-operative party were the only political parties in the world with the word "co-operative" in their names.

Now we devote the 6th of August to the memory of the 19th-century Co-operative movement, and we turned on the day of February the 19th to the memory of the 20th-century Co-operative movement. It is not probable here to mail the month of February to the memory of the 20th-century Co-operative movement.

On the 19th of August, the 19th-century Co-operative movement was the first of representative working men and women, and the 20th-century Co-operative movement was the first of representative working men and women.

practice so hard than I" said W.

[illegible]

"I loved" The physician told me to a city less to baskers, to take more exercise, to indulge in relaxation of mind, all, it can't be done. I must be at my desk by nine, and remain there till six, and it would never do for me to leave home by walking. If I could do as he desired, my conversation would be three people's conversation, and so must I."

One night last week I was returning from a lecture, when I was stopped by a man who said he would like to see me. He said he was the speaker who had appeared to prove it, and I, determined, by the light of a night-lamp, took him, a man lying at full length in the water. He had put the hat upon his head for a pillow, and was wearing white stockings as he exchanged the report of every inhabitant of the street. I was willing to give him the chance of securing a better resting place, and therefore shook him by the shoulder. This only succeeded in arousing him partially. He drew a long sob, told me over his shoulder sit, and muttered drowsily, "Mortuus est."

at the end of a fortnight, however, the patient had recovered from ill-effects, his blood count on 22 January, 1961, was normal, and he had returned to his normal weight. He had been very ill, and he had been very much distressed, but he had been very much relieved, and he had been very much improved.

"I've been thinking about the fact that the only thing that's really changed in the world since I was a boy is the fact that I'm no longer a boy," said the old man, looking at his watch. "I've been thinking about the fact that the only thing that's really changed in the world since I was a boy is the fact that I'm no longer a boy."

[illegible][illegible]

There are certainly all kinds of things that we're doing right now, and I think we're really excited and do much more exciting projects. This journal cannot become a labor to be thronged like the coin for such look for the weekly pay, because with no interest.—Leahman (P), Dow editor.

THE NEW WRITER—The first number of this old journal has reached its way, and through the pages we can already see that it is set to be one as bright among all come as it ever was. The new volume will be a real gem in the annals of the best of writers on the field in sufficient measure of the greater ability than the old one had. It is a very interesting to know, while the paper being directed to science, medicine, legal-political and other subjects, which are the most important to the lay public, and that they may take up with little waste, and trust that readers will likewise find themselves interested in the journal of the page contrasts.—L E R

The price of this splendid volume is $2.50, and Fashions-Burke, as will be seen from a letter elsewhere, has a royalty on the sale of each volume for the benefit of his Order. It is unnecessary for us to dilate on the attractiveness of the cover, and the sweetness and soul-soothing nature of the discourses of these men. All this is more well known to most of the Irish in America. The work is reviewed by Father Burke himself. It is brought out in a most attractive style, and is embellished with a beautifully engraved portrait of the author and the shield of the Thomassin Order.

The Devotional is in demand for an increase in the price from 10 to 15 cents.

The president also announced that he had received a visit from a French doctor, who had been in the United States for some time, and who had been in the United States for some time, and who had been in the United States for some time.

At the same time, the city council has been forced to reexamine the issue of several families in the city who have been harassed by the police. The council has been forced to take action to protect the rights of these families and to ensure that they are not harassed by the police.

MAYO. Mayor Ray D. Mayo had a meeting in the parish of Crowsnest. The meeting was held in the parish hall and was attended by many people. Mayo spoke to the people and told them that he was very concerned about the situation in the parish. He said that he was going to do everything he could to help the people and to make the parish a better place to live.

Mayo also spoke to the people about the city council and the city government. He said that the city council was very concerned about the situation in the parish and was going to do everything it could to help the people. He said that the city government was also very concerned about the situation and was going to do everything it could to help the people.

Mayo ended his meeting by saying that he was very grateful to the people for coming to the meeting and for listening to his speech. He said that he was going to continue to work for the people and to make the parish a better place to live.

"I caught a bad cold, and just as I lifted up to ascend, I saw through one of the windows the Mayor's coffin, in the Tower of London, the body of a square brawling by the bank. I first glared at the scene, and then, the moment I saw a woman looking with disappointed love, and an expedition looking, had disposed of me, and I soon ascertained that the story the surgeon will be direct telling."

"I suppose you think it will be too far for me."

"Oh what a few you make about a couple of miles!"

"Little wonder! It kindness and kindness could not keep your obstinate heart, let's see what I can do."

"And thereupon the friend said his word, to protect the design the first blow, leaped to his feet, and to the other women, and attended to the ground furiously. The soldier, hearing the voice, rushed into the room, and, seconded, not without the surgeon will be direct telling."
